FAST FLYER WRECKED

Passenger Train Crashes Into a Wild Coal Car at Trebeins, Ohio.

DISTILLERY EMPLOYEES TO RESCUE.

Wreckage Caught Fire and Some of the Unfortunates Were Burned to Death—List of Dead and Injured.

Xenia, O., July 26.—An almost unexampled wreck occurred at 10:30 p. m. at Trebeins station, three miles from here, when train No. 2, the Pennsylvania limited from St. Louis to New York, was met by a wild coal car at the foot of a heavy grade. The number of dead and injured was not easily ascertained, because the wreckage took fire and all but the two Pullman cars in the rear was burned. The train was behind, and was running at the rate of 70 miles an hour to make up lost time. Besides the postal and express cars, it consisted of a day coach and several sleepers.

In some manner a car loaded with coal had become unloosed from its couplings and started down a three-mile grade, gaining velocity as it went. At the bottom of the grade it crashed into the engine of the passenger train.

There was no warning. Just the crash, then the consequences. Of the coal car, there is scarcely to be found a trace, so completely was it splintered. The passenger engine is a mass of ruins, while the postal and express cars were piled on top of it in a promiscuous heap. Almost simultaneously with the first crash the gas tanks under the cars exploded and set fire to the ruins.

Instantly cries could be heard from the mass of wreckage. Passengers who had themselves suffered injuries forgot their pain in witnessing the sufferings of the women and the men who were slowly burning to death, but whom, on account of their own injuries, they were unable to rescue.

An engine from Xenia was hurried to the scene, and two Pullmans that remained safely on the track was hauled to a place of safety, serving for the time being as a refuge for the less seriously wounded.

The following is a corrected list of the dead and injured:

The dead—William Clark, engineer, formerly of Xenia, now of Columbus, trunk of body and one leg found, leaves wife and three children; Patrick Dwyer, fireman, Cincinnati; M. M. Peters, mail clerk, Cincinnati; E. F. M. McKeown, mail clerk, Greenfield, Ind., body not recovered.

The injured: Joseph Converse, aged 27, Elmira, N. Y., scalp wound, not serious; Bessie Donovan, 18, Irwin, Pa., cut about head, not serious; William G. Forsyth, Indianapolis, mail clerk, dangerously hurt; W. A. Gifford, Woodstock, mail clerk, cut about head and arms, dangerously hurt; James McFadden, Indianapolis, nose fractured, not seriously hurt, had a ticket for Ireland; Mollie Collins, Louisville, cut head, not serious.

The story of a woman and child having been burned to death is not confirmed and discredited. Ten or 12 people who are not included in the above were injured, but none seriously.

To Clarence Kincaid, treasurer of the Colonial Distilling company of Trebeins is due deserved credit for his great presence of mind in averting another terrible collision. He was the first person on the scene and an eye witness to the catastrophe. Taking in the situation at a glance, he knew that a fast freight was about due. He notified the operator at Xenia of the collision and asked if there was not some way to intercept the freight. Word came back that it was too late. The freight was rapidly nearly in the wreck. Kincaid called to George Barr, Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad agent, whose track is parallel to take his lantern and flag the train which could be heard approaching in the distance. Barr ran several squares down the track and stopped the incoming freight.

Kincaid, in the meantime, secured assistance from employees of his distillery, shut down the plant and put the force to work rescuing the injured. One man was heard in the day coach yelling pitifully, "Help, mother, oh, mother." His cries faded as the flames in the coach burned away and the terror-stricken spectators were powerless to render assistance owing to the intense heat.

Two tramps were in the front end of the blind baggage, riding directly behind the coal tender. When the crash came they were hurled into the air and fell on the road 20 feet away.

One gave his name as John Brogers, and said he was from Indianapolis. His face was scratched. Neither were injured. They offered their services as rescuers and were accepted by the railroad company to assist cleaning away the wreck. A boy named Brown who lives at Trebeins, carried flour to the victims and sprinkled it on their burns to allay the pain.

A story was current that the coal car had run from Xenia to Trebeins down grade in charge of a brakeman who could not set the brake. The brake refused to work. An engine chased after it. When the brakeman saw he could not check the car he jumped.

Most of the passengers were ticketed through from St. Louis or far western points to New York.

FORMER SECRETARY SMITH

Discusses Conditions in South, Political and Industrial.

New York, July 26.—Former Secretary of the Interior, Hoke Smith, of Georgia, who is in this city, in discussing conditions in the southern states, is quoted as saying: "The question of principle with regard to the political attitude of the south is not whether it will adhere to the Democratic party, but what part it will take in the Democratic national convention. Will it stand by the departure of 1896 at Chicago, which was reiterated at Kansas City in 1900, or will it go back to the Democracy of Jefferson and Jackson, of Seymour and Tilden? It seems almost impossible for eastern business men and every eastern Democrat to understand the situation in the south. Of first importance with us is local government. Our sufferings from 1868 to 1880 taught lessons which will make it impossible for many years to come for the white vote to divide. It is not so much a matter of race prejudice, it is a matter of protecting our state, county and municipal government from ignorance and incompetence. The large majority of the white voters of the south are really conservative, but their fear of bad local government causes them frequently to make no fight on a national question, lest it might jeopardize that which with them is good local government. The Democrats of the east may confidently rely upon cordial co-operation in 1904 from those of the south.

"The south has made wonderful progress in the last few years. Manufactories of every sort are being erected. I do not regard the struggle for supremacy in the manufacture of lint cotton to be between New England and the south. The south produces 70 per cent of the lint cotton of the world, which goes to manufactures. Foreign mills increase the value of American raised lint cotton by manufacturing it annually. It is for America in the south where the cotton grows, to prepare the manufactured fabric for export, and I believe each year the south in her cotton mills will make great inroads into the business of foreign cotton manufacturers."

For Harbor Improvements.

Washington, July 26.—The chief of engineers received reports from the engineers in charge of the river and harbor improvements containing estimates for the fiscal year 1904. Major Dan C. Kingman submits the following for the Cleveland, Ohio, district: Cleveland harbor, $250,000; to complete the project $4,276,756; Fairport harbor, Ohio, $200,000; Ashtabula harbor, Ohio, $123,520; Conneaut harbor, Ohio, $100,000. Major E. H. Ruffner submits the following from the Cincinnati, Ohio, district: Muskingum river, Ohio, $110,000; Big Sandy river, West Virginia and Kentucky, $53,000; to complete the project $4,080,000; Kentucky river, Kentucky, $200,000; to complete the project, $2,135,000.

Rain in Texas.

Dallas, Tex., July 26.—There has been almost a continuance fall of rain covering practically the entire state since last Sunday, the downpour being particularly heavy in western Texas. In Scurry county rain has fallen for seven days and nights and all streams are out of their banks. The town of Snyder has had no mail for three days and is cut off from all communication except by telephone. Traffic on the Texas Pacific is almost completely tied up at Abilene. No trains have arrived there from the west for three days.

Hornellsville, N. Y., July 26.—A hall and rainstorm visited Canaseraga, 13 miles east of here, doing thousands of dollars of damage, especially to growing crops. For a time the water was three feet deep on the Erie railway tracks. Water ran down the streets of the village in rivers cutting great holes in the streets. All the cellars of the town were filled and merchants could not recover their goods in time to save them.

CHARGEIS WITHDRAWN

Secretary Wilson of Mine Workers Is Not Wanted in West Virginia.

JUDGE JACKSON CHANGES HIS MIND.

The Case For Alleged Violation of Injunction Was Dropped Because of Fear of Creating a Furor.

Indianapolis, July 26.—W. B. Wilson, secretary and treasurer of the United Mine Workers, received a communication from his attorney at Parkersburg, W. Va., saying that the warrant for his arrest on a charge of violating an injunction, issued by Judge Jackson, had been rescinded.

The warrant was issued after Judge Jackson had permanently enjoined "Mother" Jones and other organizers from trying to get the miners to quit work, and giving some of the organizers jail sentences. It was expected that the warrant for Wilson would be served at once.

Wilson understands that the charge against him was dropped because of fear that it would create a greater furor than the men who brought the suit desire at this time, but Wilson also believes that he was entirely within the law at his meetings at Clarksburg and Fairmont, where it was charged that he made the inflammatory speeches violating the injunction.

Fatal Fire at Albany.

Albany, N. Y., July 26.—One fireman dead, one in the hospital, believed to be dying and a number seriously injured in addition to a monetary loss variously estimated at from $500,000 to $750,000 is the result of a fire which broke out in the heart of the business district. The dead man is D. K. Bishop, an auxiliary member of the insurance patrol and prominent in the city's social and financial circles. James J. Shelly, a fellow-member of the patrol was dug out of a mass of wreckage terribly burned and with both hips dislocated, both legs broken, one arm shattered and severe internal injuries. He will probably die. Another fireman who is seriously injured is Frank H. Wetherwax, superintendent of the insurance patrol, who is suffering from concussion of the spine and internal injuries. The fire started on the top floor of the public market building on Beaver street and spread rapidly to the Columbia hotel and the Elks' clubhouse which adjoin it.

Final Interview.

Rome, July 26.—Bishop Thomas O'Gorman of Sioux Falls, S. D., had a final interview with Cardinal Rampolla, the papal secretary of state. They discussed the Philippine situation and the importance of electing a suitable candidate for apostolic delegate, but no name was mentioned. The bishop leaves Rome and sails from Genoa for New York on steamer Hohenzollern July 30. He goes first to Oyster Bay, L. I., to present President Roosevelt with the letter and gift of the pope. Thence the bishop will go to Washington to deliver Cardinal Rampolla's letter to Secretary Hay.

To Aid Students.

Knoxville, Tenn., July 26.—Southern educators who are attending the summer school for the south, now in session at the University of Tennessee here, have inaugurated a movement to establish an educational fund for worthy students who may attend the University of Tennessee. The plan is to afford a source from which students of limited or no means may borrow, with the understanding that the amounts are to be repaid with small interest. Already a considerable sum has been raised for this fund.

Enjoys the Sunshine.

London, July 26.—This was the first brilliant day since King Edward's arrival at Cowes, Isle of Wight, and his majesty enjoyed the sunshine on deck. At 12:50 p. m., the royal yacht left her moorings and cruised westward. All reports from the yacht agree that the king is steadily improving. There was another rehearsal of the royal procession from Buckingham palace to Westminster abbey. It was witnessed by a large crowd.

To Develop Coal Fields.

Chattanooga, Tenn., July 26.—Former Governor Thomas M. Waller of Connecticut passed through Chattanooga with a party of New York capitalists returning from New Orleans and southern Alabama, where the party spent several days looking over the coal territory in southern Alabama arranging for the immediate development of that section.

THE TROLLEY ROAD.

It Will Practically Double the Value of Farms Along the Route—Farmers Should Promote Them.

[J. S. Trigg, of American Press Association.]

As a class farmers have not yet fully awakened to the value of a trolley railway system located so as to be accessible to their farms. They should, instead of being asleep and indifferent to such enterprises, be the foremost in promoting them. Instead of reluctantly granting a right of way for such a road it should be cheerfully donated and from $500 to $1,000 given as a bonus to the builders.

We have in mind the results following the construction of such a line last year, a line sixteen miles in length. It has practically doubled the value of all farm land adjacent to it and has made living in a farm home located along the line just as desirable, to all intents and purposes, as living in town and in many respects more so.

If in your country community there is any effort being made to introduce this modern agricultural improvement, don't be an old fog and kicker, but off with your coat and do your level best to help secure it.

Talk up the Maysville and Mt. Olivet electric railway.

MESSENGERS STRIKE.

Business of Telegraph Companies Seriously Hampered at Chicago.

Chicago, July 25.—The messenger boys of the Illinois District Telegraph company, which delivers under contract the business of the Western Union, struck. According to an official, the boys made no demand, and their grievance is unknown. The same company also looks after the local delivery of the Postal Telegraph company, and the boys at the latter's office struck out of sympathy. The Western Union company are offering $40 a month to men to deliver messages to avoid an interruption of their business.

The greatest inconvenience occasioned by the strike was on the floor of the board of trade. The striking boys met and formed the Chicago Messenger Boys' union with a membership of 150 and at once called a strike of its members. Organizer Fitzpatrick of the Chicago Federation of Labor, organized the union, and has asked for a charter from the American Federation of Labor.

The Higginsport team was "easy money" for the Maysville's Friday afternoon. The locals wiped the park up with the Obloans and got tired chasing each other around the bases. The score was only 29 to 5 in favor of Maysville.

Lewis County's Oil Boom.

[Portsmouth Times.]

The Lewis County oil boom is bringing fortunes to at least one Portsmouth woman. That is Mrs. Bessie Parker, of West Front street. She owns ninety acres near Escalopia Springs and a month ago would have sold the whole farm for $100. Now an oil well has come in good nearby and Saturday a man was here trying to buy her land for $5,000. She declined the offer and will likely lease her land to a company on shares.

Chickens By the Million.

[Cincinnati Telegram to the New York World.]

Plymouth Rock chickens are the especial hobby of William T. Simpson, Vice President of the American Rolling Mill Company, this city, who is taking steps to erect the largest hennery on earth at his summer home near Dupont, Ind.

He has contracted for two million eggs at a cost of about $18,000, which he will place in the incubators.

SAFEGUARD TO COREA

Independence of the Little Oriental Country Is Vouchsafed.

AGREEMENT OF CERTAIN POWERS.

Although Diplomatic Circles at Washington Have Not Been Informed Officially, Great Interest Is Manifested.

St. Petersburg, July 26.—A special dispatch received here from Seoul, Corea, announces the conclusion of an important agreement between the British and Japanese ministers to Corea on one hand and the Japanese councillor, Kato, special adviser of the Korean emperor, on the other, by which Great Britain and Japan mutually guarantee Corea's independence and pledge her their support and assistance in all important questions affecting her internal and foreign policy. Corea in return, agrees to raise her naval and military establishments to a footing sufficient for her own defense and also in case of raising a foreign loan she agrees to restrict herself to the markets of Great Britain, Japan and the United States.

News at Washington.

Washington, July 26.—Much interest was manifested by Mr. Minihai Cho, the Korean minister and by the Japanese legation officials who are in Washington, in the announcement of the conclusion of an important agreement between England and Japan, pledging independence of Corea, and involving reciprocal concessions on the part of the Korean government. However, neither the Japanese nor Korean legations were officially advised of the conclusions of this agreement, in connection with the new agreement. It is pointed out here that the United States has a treaty of peace, amity, commerce and navigation with Corea, signed in 1882 and providing that "if other powers deal unjustly or oppressively with either government, the other will exert their good offices on being informed of the case, to bring about an amicable agreement."

Slept on the Mayflower.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 26.—President Roosevelt and the party which accompanied him to Seagirt arrived off Sagamore Hill in the Mayflower. The Mayflower remained at anchor off Tompkinsville over night. Lieutenant Commander Albert Gleaves, in command of the vessel, concluded that he would not take the chance of going through Hell Gate in the fog which then prevailed. The president approved of anchoring for the night. Lieutenant Commander Gleaves' action in anchoring was due to stringent regulations regarding war vessels passing through Hell Gate issued some time ago by the navy department.

Change Will Be Gradual.

Topeka, Kan., July 26.—Beginning Aug. 1, the new agreement concerning wages between the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad and the Brotherhood of Railway Carmen will go into effect. Under the terms decided upon the change will be gradual and will not be extended over the entire system until about Jan. 1. Certain cases which are most pressing will be given advantage of the raise first. The increase will affect about 7,000 men and amounts to an average of from 10 to 12½ per cent. The agreement also provides for a 10-hour day and a possible hour off on Saturday.

Will Visit St. Louis.

St. Louis, July 26.—A cablegram has been received at World's fair headquarters from Peking, China, announcing that Prince Chen son of Prince Ching, would shortly arrive at New York from Europe en route home and it was stated that the Chinese government desired him to visit St. Louis and investigate the preparations being made for the fair. President Francis accordingly telegraphed an invitation, through Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister at Washington to Prince Chen to visit St. Louis as the guest of the Louisiana purchase exposition on his way to the Pacific coast.

An Offset to Morgan.

London, July 26.—The announcement from Montreal that the Canadian Pacific railway had, at the request of the Canadian ministers now in London, offered to establish and work a weekly fast service between Quebec and Liverpool in the summer and between Halifax and Liverpool in the winter, with a good freight service, is causing considerable stir in England, where it is hailed with delight as being an offset to J. P. Morgan's shipping combine.

WHEN the late Thomas F. Bayard was Minister to England, during President Cleveland's second administration, there was a mighty hullabaloo in this country, among some people, because of certain of his utterances which were misconstrued to be un-American. Ambassador Choate, Republican, recently advised against Fourth of July celebrations in England, "because of the unpleasant significances of the event they commemorate," but not a Republican raises his voice in criticism.

THE Chicago Tribune, the leading Republican journal of the West, will likely be called to account by its party leaders for publishing such articles as this:

The high duties on wool have not had the promised effect. It was asserted that if the sheep raisers were well protected such a stimulus would be given to the production of wool that this country would become quite independent of foreign supplies and the decline in price would ensue which has ensued in the case of other protected products. What has proved true in other industries has not proved true in the raw wool industry. The woolen manufacturers are not supplied by the American flock masters with sufficient quantities of the different kinds of wool they need. There has been a regrettable decrease in the consumption of wool per head.

"UNDUE FAVORITISM OF THE GOVERNMENT."

The Chicago Tribune, Republican though it is, made an interesting acknowledgment not long ago that should be kept before the people of the country. The Tribune was considerably disturbed because Andrew Carnegie had offered to pay $20,000,000 for the Philippine Islands provided only that he was permitted to assure the Filipinos that they would be given their independence. Although hitherto the Tribune had not indicated that it had lost patience with Mr. Carnegie, yet in the editorial mentioned it says the steel magnate "has tried the patience of his friends severely in some of his late bids for notoriety." The Tribune thinks that Mr. Carnegie is constantly posing. It says he has "scattered libraries broadly through the country, all of which are to be called for him, and everyone of them is a contribution to the conscience fund." Then the Tribune explains:

Mr. Carnegie made his money in a magnificent way, but he should never forget that he made it through the undue favoritism of the Government of the United States. Owing to the discrimination practiced in his favor by the tariff, he was enabled to amass a fortune of two hundred millions of dollars or more, most of which came out of the pockets of his countrymen through the operation of unequal laws. Much has been said of the benefit arising to the workmen from the establishment of the Carnegie works to survive and flourish, but there are some people who have not forgotten the Homestead strike, nor the outrageous manner in which the workmen were treated at that time by employers whose brutality has seldom been exceeded in the history of labor agitation. It is significant, says Bryan's Commoner, that Republican papers do not remind Mr. Carnegie of the source of his great fortune until that gentleman undertook to condemn an important policy of the Republican party, and the Tribune is to be given credit for its candor, when it says that Mr. Carnegie "should never forget that he made it (his fortune) through the undue favoritism of the government of the United States."

"Undue favoritism" is good. If the Tribune's criticism of this point is true, why does not the Tribune, continues the Commoner, direct its shafts at the party that gave "undue favoritism" rather than at the man who took advantage of the opportunity of enjoying the extraordinary privileges? "Owing to the discrimination practiced in his favor by the tariff," says the Tribune, "he was enabled to amass a fortune of $200,000,000 or more, most of which came out of the pockets of his countrymen through the operation of unequal laws."

"This is exactly what the Democratic party has claimed and exactly what the Republican papers have denied," adds the Commoner, "but why does not this Republican paper direct its criticism against the Republican party that practiced this discrimination and enabled a man to 'amass a fortune of $200,000,000 or more, most of which came out of the pockets of his countrymen through the operations of unequal laws?' How does it happen that the Tribune continues day after day to insist that the party that provided this 'undue favoritism,' that practiced this 'discrimination' in favor of Andrew Carnegie and other men, is the party of honesty, of patriotism, of progress? The 'undue favoritism' and the 'discrimination' by which Andrew Carnegie was enabled to build up his immense fortune is being practiced to-day under the authority of the Republican party. Why does not the Chicago Tribune condemn this undue favoritism and this discrimination? Why does it not array itself against a policy which takes millions of dollars out of the pockets of the people through the operation of unequal laws, and places these fortunes in the pockets of a few individuals who contribute liberally to the Republican campaign fund?"

SPRINGDALE, July 24th.—The Sunday school institute held at Bethany Church by Elder Robert M. Hopkins closed Wednesday evening with a crowded house, even the doors and windows being full, and the people, all with one accord, pronounced it a success, while Bro. Hopkins was fully assured that if old Bethany was dead she was at least a very lively corpse. The attention was perfect, the order was perfect, and the program was perfect.

In late years men have made fortunes out of tailings of gold mines. The mills in which the ore formerly was crushed and the crude process then in use allowed a large per centage of the precious metal to escape and that loss amounted in some cases to a fortune. The stomach is just like a stamp mill in this respect, that when it is not in perfect order it allows the escape and waste of much of the precious nutriment contained in food. That loss when continuous means the loss of man's greatest fortune,—health. Science offers a remedy for this condition in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It corrects the "weakness" of the stomach, prevents waste and loss of nourishment and puts the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition into a condition of health which enables them to save and assimilate all the nutriment contained in the food which is eaten. In all cases of constipation the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will speedily and permanently cure the disease.

His Adams County friends are pleased to learn of his success, and congratulate the patrons of the Maysville schools upon having secured such a talented young man to manage the educational interests of their section."

R. H. Evans, the wealthy old miller of Millersburg, who eloped to Cincinnati the first of the week with pretty eighteen-year-old Sallie Turney, did not succeed in obtaining a marriage license, and the couple returned to Paris, where friends had arranged with the girl's father for his consent to the wedding. When the coveted papers were issued, the groom suggested that it would be a good idea to get married in Millersburg, but she put her pretty foot down hard and said, "We get married right here and now. I have been tramping around Cincinnati all day and my feet hurt." The groom capitulated with a smile and the Rev. Mr. Clark soon made the twain one.

Two Important Principles

Govern the buying and selling in this store—first, supply every demand of the season; second, close out a season's goods early enough to make buying for present use possible. As cotton frocks are comfortably worn here until the middle of October, you need not store for future wear the pretty wash goods we are selling at half-price. Buy for immediate use. Two gowns now at the former price of one.

Beautiful Embroidered Swisses, French DIMITIES, Figured Batistes, Mulls and Lawns in every conceivable shade, pattern and variation of weave for 15c. Until now not a yard sold for less than 25c.

The daintiest 15 and 19 cent DIMITIES, corded and plain Lawns now 10c. a yard.

Exquisite Silk Tissues reduced from 75c. to 35c. A lace striped white, a black in the same design, a Jonquil yellow with satin stripes, a carnation pink embroidered in silk dots, a white ground with pink satin figured stripes.

Only a few patterns, less than half a dozen, of the 50c. Silk Tissues reduced to 25c.

Embroidered Swisses, figured and striped, several blues, one black and white, tan, pink. 25c. instead of 50c.

IN CUSTODY.

Blaine Humphreys, Colored, Arrested Friday and Confessed to Attempted Assault on Miss Hamrick, of Tollesboro.

Blaine Humphreys, a young negro, aged about eighteen, was arrested last night at the home of his uncle, Robert Morton, two miles this side of Ruggles' camp ground, and later confessed that he had attempted to criminally assault Miss Ella Hamrick, of Tollesboro, the night before, as mentioned in Friday's BULLETIN.

Humphreys implicated Ellsworth Harrison, another young negro, in the attempted assault, but Harrison can prove he was in a store at Tollesboro at the time.

When Mr. N. Gollenstein reached the scene Friday morning with Mason County's bloodhounds, the dogs followed a trail from the house where Miss Hamrick was attacked to the home of a negro named Winters. The family would allow no one to enter and drove the dogs away.

Winters furnished proof that he was out of town when the assault was attempted, but later in the day it was learned that Humphreys had been seen to leave the Winters' house. He could not be found, and Mr. Gollenstein, who had returned home, was again asked over the phone to bring the hounds out. After the dogs had taken the trail, one of the Morton family was seen to approach the town in a great hurry, and at once started back. He was overhauled and the officers then proceeded to his home, surrounded the house and on searching it Humphreys was found.

He was returned to Tollesboro and after his confession, was arraigned before the Justice of the Peace and ordered committed to jail at Vanceburg for trial. In his confession Humphreys stated that he went to the Hamrick home with the intention of assaulting a Miss Hensley, a young white girl who lives with the family. He himself had worked about the home for the family and knew the premises well. Miss Hamrick is blind and about forty years of age.

Messrs. S. P. Hooper and Philip Hoskinson, of Waynesburg, Pa., are here buying horses. Friday they drove out to Mr. James Brannon's near Lewisburg and were directed to a field where Mr. Brannon and his hands were stacking hay. The Pennsylvanians were greatly surprised at the novel sight that greeted them—a horse up on one of the stacks tramping down the fresh hay as it was gradually piled on the stack. Mr. Brannon has for years utilized one of his horses for this purpose. The visitors inquired how the horse would get down, but presently a fresh load of hay was dragged up beside the stack, Mr. Brannon called to the horse and the animal jumped off to the smaller pile and then easily descended.

The peach crop in Southern Missouri this year breaks all records. On one peach farm, that of St. Elm, there will be employed 3 600 pickers, and has 137, 000 trees, which will yield about five bushels to the tree this year; $25,000 worth of box material has been purchased to pack the crop. The picking season began the 20th of July and it is said that 800 cars of peaches will be shipped from this one farm alone and the crop is already sold before shipment.

Born, July 18th, to Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Bowen, of Augusta, a daughter.
